CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS HEADS SEE VERDUGO WOODLANDS AS GUESTS OF NEWPORT CO.

Huge Picnic to Get Acquainted With Beautiful Subdivision—Its Canyons, Flowers and Hospitality Ar e Big Success

TO RESEMBLE WILSHIRE DISTRICT IN L. A.

Plans of Company for Developing Natural Resources of Beauty Are Explained by Representative After Barbacue at Old Adobe House

The dusky mantle of eventide was slowly descending upon the valley of the Verdugo last night, as the members of the Glendale realty board, the Glendale city council and officials of the chamber of commerce gathered at the most wonderful spot in Southern California—Verdugo Woodlands. They assembled there at the invitation of W. L. Twining, local manager for the F. P. Newport company, owners of Verdugo Woodlands. The affair was to have been the regular weekly meeting of the realty board and to take the place of the weekly luncheon, but it was finally decided to have it include many, other than realty board members, who are interested in the growth of Glendale.

One by one the automobiles took their places beside the little grove of sycamores and, as the crowd increased, so grew the appetites of all those who are aware of the wonderful Spanish "feeds" that are always handed out by the Newport company.

The tables were arranged close together and as a centerpiece to each was a large basket of dahlias, provided by the Verdugo Woodlands dahlia farm, which promises very soon to be one of the largest enterprise of its kind in the United States.

About 150 realtors and friends sat down to partake of the wonderful things prepared for them. Big things were expected, and no one went away dissatisfied. There was everything from barbecued meat to hot rolls and coffee, with chili con carne and Spanish rice on the side. Needless to say, belts were strained and groans were heard.

Following the repast the company adjourned to the palm-covered pavilion nearby, where the program was given. The singing mayor of Glendale was on hand with his little organ, which was very capably operated by Mrs. Robinson. For an opener the jovial mayor sang "The Blue Bells of Scotland," Mrs. Robinson accompanying, responding with "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," as an encore. Nothing more beautiful was ever heard in Glendale than the rendition of these numbers. The mayor was in wonderful voice, and this, supported by the surroundings, the entrancing quiet of the Woodlands, the open air—all served to provide a feature that thrilled the soul of every listener.

Cameron Thom, president of the Glendale realty board, expressed thanks in behalf of the realty board to the Newport company for this wonderful occasion, and this was responded to by Mr. Twining, who said, in part:

"We are more than pleased to have you come up to see us. We want you to know more about the Woodlands. And we want you to know, also, that we are not working simply for the Woodlands, but for Glendale as a whole."

Mr. Myers, of the F. P. Newport company, then gave a brief history of the Verdugo valley, told how the F. P. Newport company came to acquire the land, and of the wonderful things that are in store for that section.

"We are going to make this the Wilshire of Glendale," said Mr. Myers. "That is saying a great deal, but we believe that the passing months will prove that our assertions are correct. We have the location, the scenery, the climate—everything that can be desired by the lover of the very best in homesites. We have the finest there is on the face of the earth, and we know it. The trails that wound their way through this section yesterday are giving way to the boulevards of today. The advancement of civilization has struck this valley, and we are proud to be the ones to make this section a locality of wonderful homes and beautiful improvements."

"I believe Glendale has just begun to grow," said Charles B. Guthrie, who was introduced as the realtor with more offices than any other man in the world, "and all of them in Glendale." "The future growth of Glendale is beyond the dreams of today. This section was founded by optimism and the pessimist has no place here. It is the most wonderful place on the earth.

"In the United States there are 75,000 cities, and in each of them is a booster for Glendale. In all sections of the country there are people who are headed for Glendale. Let us boost, boost, boost. Boost for Glendale and Southern California. We believe in it, so let us tell the people outside. And a part of the cream of Southern California is the Verdugo Woodlands. No more wonderful place exists today. It is beyond description."

Secretary Rhoades expressed himself as being more than delighted with Glendale in general and Verdugo Woodlands in particular, and commented on a few things that make for the growth of any section. He told a little of how the chamber of commerce is endeavoring to assist in the growth and upbuilding of Glendale, and assured the realtors that the chamber plays no favorites when newcomers ask to be led to a reliable realtor.

City Manager Reeves gave a few remarks concerning the new city park, which is located close to Verdugo Woodlands.

"There is only one place on this earth that is more beautiful than Verdugo Woodlands," he said, "and that is the new city park that immediately adjoins it."

This, one of the most remarkable gatherings ever held in Glendale, closed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne," led by Mayor and Mrs. Robinson.

GRAND MASTER OF JURISDICTION RECEIVED

San Fernando Valley and Glendale Lodges Give Formal Reception

Tuesday night, the Blue lodge, otherwise known as Unity lodge, of which Dwight W. Stephenson is master, in association with the lodges of this district at Eagle Rock, Van Nuys, Burbank and San Fernando, had the honor of receiving Grand Master Samuel Edgerton Burke of the jurisdiction of California and Hawaii, in the lodge hall of the Glendale temple, at 8 o'clock.

He was received with grand honors in open lodge, and the music in connection with the ceremonies was furnished by Serafin Pla, the noted singer and former resident of Glendale, who was accompanied on the piano by Don Lindley. Both are members of Unity lodge.

The distinguished guest was introduced by District Inspector and Past Grand Master John Hobbs, and, in beginning his address, he enjoyed the honor of laying the enjoyed the honor of delivering the oration at the laying of the cornerstone of the Glendale temple. He reviewed the wonderful growth of Masonry in California, particularly in the district, and complimented the lodge on its good work. He also dwelt on the general condition of the order in other respects, in this state.

At the close of the lodge, a formal reception was held, at which all present were given an opportunity to meet the grand master.

The attendance was large from all parts of the valley.

Only Fighting Chance Is Needed by Men Who Would Succeed

You have a fighting chance so long as you have breath left in your body, and spirit in your soul, says James W. Foley, in his philosophical article to be found in "The Listening Post." "But the fighting chance," says he, "means the fighting spirit in you, the never say die, the I-won't-quit and the captaincy of your own soul."

Mr. Foley says that Columbus took a fighting chance, that all Washington asked was a fighting chance, and that every man who has served the world in the field of conspicuous endeavor, asked no more than a fighting chance. We would recommend that you read this article this evening and also the comment on the day's news by Henry James, who writes of an eminent English jurist explaining the difference between American and English court procedure and particularly the jury system.

Dr. Frank Crane says the microbe is the proletariat of nature, that millions upon millions of these little people are working 24 hours a day with no rests and he finds that undoubtedly the greatest phenomenon in nature is life. This article by Dr. Crane is also to be found on the editorial page.

OLDER SCOUT BODY SCHEDULES MEETING

Glendalians May Attend Conference at Sacramento

The second annual Older Scouts conference will be held in Sacramento September 1 to 3, for the older members of all Boy Scout troops in the state, in conjunction with the state fair and under the suversion of the Twelfth regional scout committee.

It has not been definitely decided whether the Verdugo Hills district council shall be represented at the conference or not. In speaking of the conference today, H. F. Benner, executive for the Verdugo Hills district council said:

"The older scout conference will be a wonderful experience for every boy that attends. It will also be a good investment on the part of those who send him. He will meet the better class of older scouts from all parts of the state and in addition will have an opportunity to exchange experiences with scouts from other cities. He will live in a model camp, have excellent food, hear inspiring talks and enjoy the comradeship of the big campfire. It will be a privilege for the boys to attend this conference."

Mr. Benner said that folders descriptive of the trip and conference may be secured at the local executive office of the Verdugo Hills district council, 108 North Brand Blvd.

The only expense to the trip, besides the $26.70 railroad fare, is a $1 registration fee. Food, sleeping quarters and special trips have been arranged for by the committee in charge of the conference.

On arriving at the state fair grounds, where the conference will be held, each scout will be given a badge that will entitle him to see all of the attractions of the fair free of charge.

WEST END FOLKS HOLD BIG MEETING

Seventy - Five Residents Attend and Discuss Schools and Parks

About 75 members of the newly organized West End Improvement association met at the Columbus avenue school Tuesday night, with the president, H. L. Finley, in the chair.

The chief speaker of the evening was Principal George U. Moyse, who explained the purposes for which the mass meeting, to be held at the high school Thursday evening, August 10, has been called, viz., to consider an additional bond issue to enlarge the capacity of the proposed high school at Broadway and Verdugo road, and to provide for the purchase of a high school site in the northwest part of the city, and third, to consider reorganization of the school system, with a view to establishing junior high schools. He went into the matter quite fully, and at the close of his talk, answered a rapid fire of questions which showed the intelligent interest with which his audience had listened to his exposition.

The president thanked Mr. Moyse for his address, and urged every member to attend the mass meeting. Because of objections raised by Mr. Gray, the association did not act on a proposition to indorse the projects outlined by Mr. Moyse, who was accompanied by Trustee H. W. Yarick.

E. D. Yard, the next speaker, presented his petition, addressed to the state railroad commission, asking for the restoration of a station on the Southern Pacific railroad at a point near the end of Doran street, and the association indorsed the project.

City Councilman A. H. Lanham talked about parks in general, and invited all present to attend the formal opening of the new city park at the municipal picnic, to be held August 16. He also told of plans for the improvement of the Patterson avenue park, and, in answer to the charge of favoritism with regard to the larger park, preferred by Mr. Gray, and neglect of the northwest park, said the city would be glad to have a formal opening of that park if the people of the locality desired it.

Reference was made to the offer of Mr. Hahn of acreage in the wash adjoining the Patterson avenue pleasure ground at what was considered a reasonable figure, and the discussion terminated in the appointment of a park committee to look after the interests of that section of the city with respect to parks, and make recommendations to the association. This committee was instructed to see Mr. Hahn and ascertain if his offer was still open.

Direct Your Hi School System

The direction of the high school and of the city school system for years to come depends upon the action of the mass meeting tomorrow night.

That direction is yours to give. If you attend and vote—or if you do not attend and do not vote—you direct it just the same. Yours is the responsibility in either event. If the mass meeting takes action contrary to your views, it may be because you did not attend, quite as much as because you attended and were part of the minority.

The entire situation has been explained repeatedly before meetings of civic organizations and in the newspapers of Glendale and Eagle Rock.

There should be no misunderstanding at this hour, of the meeting and its importance.

There may be a misunderstanding, however, in another respect:

AN EXPRESSION OF OPINION OUTSIDE OF THE MEETING IS OF NO DETERMINATIVE VALUE. YOU MAY EXPRESS STRONG VIEWS TO YOUR NEIGHBORS AND YOUR NEIGHBORS TO YOU. BUT IF YOU DO NOT ATTEND THE MEETING AND REITERATE THEM THERE—YOUR VIEWS AND OPINIONS ARE OF NO USE TO THIS COMMUNITY.

The Glendale Daily Press believes that the new plant should be built complete and a new bond issue voted for this purpose.

You may disagree with this viewpoint. If you had personal interests either for or against the plan of the high school board, if there was a personal profit in it for you, it would be a personal object for you to attend the meeting. You would be there.

BUT THE COMMUNITY CAN BEST BE SERVED BY THOSE WHO ATTEND A MEETING AND CONSIDER AND VOTE—WITHOUT ANY PERSONAL PURPOSE TO BE SERVED.

Those are the real guardians of a community. Without them present and voting their best judgment, any public project becomes a petty squabble of conflicting personal interests.

If this happens Thursday night—the cause is YOUR ABSENCE.

RAIL BROTHERHOODS MOVE TO PARALYZE RAILROADS IN COMPLETE SHUTDOWN

Joliet, Wilkesbarre, Cooke, Develop New Phases of Nation-wide Strike of Shopmen While Conditions Are Reported Serious in 50 Places

PROTEST ACTIONS OF RAILWAY GUARDS

Maintenance of Way Men Stir With Unrest, Illinois Rushes Troops to Scene of New Walkout, While Condition Is Declared Serious

Threat that brotherhood and other rail workers will be dragged into the nation-wide walkout of shopmen, thus bringing about complete paralysis of transportation, was given weight today by reports from many points of moves in this direction.

At Joliet, Ill., 1300 big four brotherhood workers went out in protest against railway guards.

At Wilkesbarre, Pa., 150 maintenance of way employes, who had been cleaning fires and working in shops since the shop crafts' strike started, walked out.

Five hundred workers of the Cooke plant of the American Locomotive company struck as a protest against having to repair engines of the Erie road.

Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, today declared in an interview at Cleveland, conditions are serious in 50 other places.

Stone explained that he had dispatched an official of his organization last night to attempt to settle the controversy between brotherhood members and company guards and state militia.

"The guards and members of the state militia have fired shots at our men, threatened them and made the situation there so intolerable that it was probably impossible for them to remain at work any longer," Stone said.

At the office of W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, Cleveland, it was said that the men served an ultimatum upon the company last night to withdraw the troops or they would quit work.

Six additional companies of Illinois national guard were rushed to Joliet today, where more than 1300 members of the "Big Four" railroad brotherhoods were on strike.

"Hanging by a thread." This description of the nation's transportation systems was given the United Press today by heads of the big railroad brotherhoods at Cleveland.

'SHRINE CLUB TO SATURATE' STOP SAYS HAHN

But He Does Admit Some Members May Become Moist About the Ears

Although the Shrine club meeting tonight will be thoroughly dry from an alcoholic analysis, there is a distant possibility that the members who attend may become saturated, moist, sort of damp around the ears.

"No more of that," says Charles Hahn, secretary, lifting his warning hand, "and go on from there."

So, there is interesting business to be transacted—an amendment to the by-laws, and all Shriners, whether residents of Glendale and vicinity or not, are invited to attend.

There will be something doing every two minutes. The intervals are arranged for recovery.

Bar Association President Lauds San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—The American Bar association is meeting today in the city of the Argonauts," declared President Cordenio A. Severance in his opening address before the bar association convention here today.

"Its meeting place is in a city that is both historical and in the present typifies the American spirit that has made our nation so great.

"This city, from the time of the American occupation, while engagingly cosmopolitan, has always been dominated by the strong, virile people of our race.

"By reason of its beauty and charm, its glorious mountains and lovely valleys, we are too apt to think of California only as a land of romance and ease and dolce far niente.

"The Creator did much for this charmed region, but the pioneer American men and women who painfully toiled across the burning deserts and over the snow-capped mountains, of across the Miasmic Isthmus, laid the foundations and their descendants have reared the superstructure which makes California today not only a great beauty spot, but a great commonwealth.

CITY TO PICNIC ON AUGUST 16 AT PARK

Glendale Credit Assn. Adds Horseshoe Whirling Contest

As an added attraction at the picnic to be held on August 16, in the new city park in Verdugo Woodlands, under the auspices of the Glendale Credit association, members of the Glendale Horseshoe club have agreed to stage a horseshoe pitching contest. The prizes for this event will be given by the Monarch Auto Supply company.

The Glendale Horseshoe club is affiliated with the State Horseshoe Pitchers' association and with the national association. The list of entries in this event has not yet been made public, but it is believed that the majority of the club membership will participate.

The event will consist of a 50-point walking game. There will be three prizes offered for the winners of this match, and a special prize for the greatest number of ringers made during the game.

The prizes to be awarded are as follows:

First prize—One all-weather rain and sun vizor for automobiles.

Second prize—Ten-pound can of Lubriko grease.

Third prize—Five-pound can of Lubriko grease.

Just what the special prize for the highest number of ringers will be is being kept a secret. This much is assured, the prize will be one that is well worth trying for.

Frank Pilling, secretary of the Credit association, who is arranging the special events, said this morning that the bean-guessing contest, advertised "for women only," will be an open contest, and that prizes for both men and women will be awarded. There will be ten prizes for this event.

A proclamation was issued today by Mayor Spencer Robinson setting aside Wednesday, August 16, as a public holiday, in connection with the picnic.

FOUR MACHINES IN ACCIDENTS

Four automobile accidents occurred yesterday. None was serious, but taken all together, they created quite a lot of excitement. Richard C. Little damage resulted.

Machines driven by Oswald Higgs, 1312 San Fernando road, and Mrs. Custer, 452 Dryden street, came together on Colorado street at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. No one was injured.

An automobile driven by Dale R. Robinson of 420 West Oak street, tangled horns with another car, operated by P. Saunders of Huntington Park, at 5:30 last night. Little damage was done.

A vehicle belonging to the Common Truck company of Los Angeles and another owned by C. R. McHall of 507 North Leader street, collided on San Fernando boulevard at 4 o'clock yesterday. Both cars were somewhat damaged, but no one was injured.

BUSINESS WOMEN GATHER AT NEW HOME FOR SUPPER, HEAR OF HI SCHOOL BONDS

Principal George U. Moyse Addresses Professional Women At Clubhouse, 126 South Maryland, on Need of Completing New Plant

E. D. YARD TELLS OF DEPOT PROJECT

Trustee Yarick Points to Loss Possible If Adequate Preparation Is Not Made for Meeting Educational Congestion of the City

At the business session of the Glendale Business and Professional Women's club Tuesday evening, following the supper served at the new home of the organization, 126 South Maryland, Principal George U. Moyse presented the high school problems in connection with the proposed new bond issue that are to be considered at the mass meeting to be held August 10, and E. D. Yard submitted a petition addressed to the state railroad commission, asking for the restoration of the Southern Pacific station on land between Doran and Milford, which had been dedicated for the purpose 33 years ago and abandoned by the railroad 16 years ago.

Mr. Moyse gave statistics showing the rapid growth of school attendance which, if continued, would bring enrollment within the next five years to 4000, and showed the wisdom of endeavoring to provide for that increase by building in a manner which will allow for expansion. That cannot be done, he said, if the sum expended is limited to $600,000. The need for a new high school site in the northwest was mentoined and school reorganization plans which will make possible the use of the present plant for a junior high school and so relieve congestion in the grammar schools. He urged that every member attend the mass meeting and aid in solving these most important school problems.

Trustee H. W. Yarick, who accompanied Mr. Moyse, reinforced his arguments and pointed out what a loss and lasting regret it would be to the community should it fail to make adequate provision for the future. He quoted the estimates given the board by Architect Austin, mentioning the high esteem in which Mr. Austin's judgment is held by prominent citizens of Los Angeles, who have entrusted him with most important commissions in the building of schools, churches, clubhouses, etc.

Mr. Yard asked the association to sign his petition as an organized body, and in obedience to the vote of members present, Dr. Laura Brown, as president, and Miss Clara Sayre as secretary, signed the document, which had previously been signed by six other organizations and the city council.

The reports of officers and committee chairmen were received, all of which were encouraging, that of the house committee being of especial interest.

The club voted to ratfiy the action of the cabinet in regard to securing a concession for the sale of candy, popcorn, peanuts and gum at the municipal picnic, August 16, and several members volunteered to assist in the sale of the candy and in the preparatory work.

Dr. aJckman, chairman of the house committee, reminded members that in its hostess, Miss Clara Stevens, it has a wnoderful cook, who can do anything in the culinary line, and said a bulletin board was to be established, on which members could list favorite dishes they would like to have her make. Of needed club furnishings she mentioned a single bed, good box couch, dresser and mirror, dinner plates, rugs, easy chairs and gas heaters. The fact that two of the bedrooms have been rented to members was reported and announcement received with satisfaction, a salso the decision of the committee to use the den off the living room to provide accommodations for transient women guests who might desire the use of a room for a night or two. It would be pleasanter for a lonely guest than going to a hotel and might at the same time yield the club quite an income.

The resignation of Mrs. Margaret Biggs as chairman of the occupational committee was tendered because of the strenuous demands of her insurance work, and was accepted.

At a meeting of the cabinet, which followed the club session, Mrs. George U. Moyse was elected chairman of occupational work.

When the club adjourned it was to meet again for its picnic and social session in the grove of the Newport company at Verdugo Woodlands, at the west end of Glorietta avenue, Tuesday evening, August 22, when it will be addressed by Mrs. Robert Burdette, one of the most prominent clubwomen in Southern California.

August 29, the club will be entertained by Mrs. A. Walton and Mrs. Peggie Walton at the home of Mrs. Warner at 106 East Wilson.

In October the club will entertain at dinner members of the County Federation of Business Women's clubs.

HOTEL PAPERS TO BE ESCROWED TOMORROW

$100,000 Theatre Is New, Financed by Element on East Side

All the necessary legal papers for the new hotel, upon which attorneys have been working night and day for the past week or so, will be completed today, according to Mr. Tremain, who will construct the hotel, and he and his legal advisors will come to Glendale tomorrow and place the papers in escrow in the Glendale avenue branch of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings bank. As soon as the papers are in escrow, construction on the building may commence. Those in charge of the building work are planning to be on the ground bright and early Monday morning.

Mr. Tremain has leased the office formerly occupied by the Ambrosini Construction company, on East Broadway, and the operations of erecting the building will be overseen from that point.

The latest move on the part of Mr. Tremain is to arrange for the construction of a theatre, to cost about $100,000, on the lot immediately adjoining the hotel on the north—on Glendale avenue. This building will have a seating capacity of 1100 and will be financed entirely by Mr. Tremain.

Already this theatre has been leased to one of the largest theatre men of Los Angeles, and will be put in use as soon as erected. This building will, it is understood, be constructed simultaneously with the hotel, both structures being rushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

TUESDAY CLUB CONSTRUCTION INSPECTED

Campbells and Mrs. John R. White Motor From Beach to See Work

Mrs. Daniel Campbell and Mrs. John Robert White motored to Glendale today with Daniel Campbell and inspected the work going forward on the site of the new home of the Tuesday Afternoon club on Central avenue. It looked good to them and renewed their enthusiasm.

So many Glendalians are summering at Hermosa that impromptu parties are the order of the day. Monday morning Mesdames John Dunn, her house guest, Mrs. Andrew Findlay, Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Mrs. W. E. Evans, Mrs. Frank Ayars and Mrs. John Robert White enjoyed a surf party, followed by a picnic luncheon at the home of Mrs. Evans. The ladies spent the afternoon together talking over plans in connection with the Tuesday Afternoon club.

Friday the executive board of the club will be entertained at luncheon by Mrs. Ayars and meet in special session to plan the work of the coming year.

'SIGN OF JACK O'LANTERN' HERE

"There is nothing quite so alluring in all the world as buried treasure," declares Wade Boteler, who has one of the important roles in "At the Sign of the Jack o' Lantern," produced by Renco Film company for W. W. Hodkinson, and which will be seen at the Glendale theatre today.

"In the film we have a bunch of greedy relatives digging under a certain tree in an orchard for the riches they believed their late uncle had left. They did not need to go to a far country to get their thrill, but the spirit that moved them was the same."

"'At the Sign of the Jack o' Lantern' is an adaptation of the famous story of the same name, written by one of America's foremost authors, Myrtle Reed. It was directed by Lloyd Ingraham, called 'the director without a failure.'"

MRS. HARRIS IS PARTY HONOREE

Mrs. H. H. Harris, of 1144 North Brand boulevard, was pleasantly surprised Thursday by Mrs. J. Golsten of 901 East Stocker street, and Mrs. A. Biesenthal of Los Angeles, who entertained with a stork shower in her honor.

Mrs. Harris was away from home for a while in the morning and upon her return found her many friends waiting for her. They had decorated and set tables in the patio while she was away which were beautiful, the color scheme being pink and white. The hostesses served a daintily appointed luncheon at 1 o'clock to the 24 ladies present.

The rest of the afternoon was enjoyed by playing cards and sewing.

WHY NOT A CARD INDEX?

Carrie—Helloo, there, Larry, I hear that you are married again, Who is the lucky girl this time?

Larry—I really don't recall her name. Funny, I left her card at the house somewhere.

PRESS-NEWTON FAVORITES ON PROGRAM

sang via Press-Newton radio, KYJ and KWH, is returning this evening and the listening public will learn how easy it is to go down to the low notes. Mr. Rogers is a great basso, having been with the Hippodrome in New York for seven and a half years. In private life he is known as Phillip T. Hillman, and hails from Portland, Me.

Miss Hazel Linkogel, violinist, and resident of Glendale, has been climbing the ladder of fame at a fast rate. Miss Linkogel produces tones from her violin so sweet and clear that you never dreamed such tones existed. She has played via Press-Newton and has also played at Grauman's theatre, Los Angeles, and has received highest praise at both offerings. She is very busy practically every evening and the Press-Newton combine consider themselves fortuntae in obtaining her services on this evening's program.

Mrs. E. B. Moore of Glendale has consented to furnish the public with a few smiles, grins and laughs inasmuch as she states she has never given a serious reading in her life. Mrs. Moore will give one "child dialect" reading and one other reading, both laugh-provokers.

TENDER HEARTED CREATURES

Brown—You know my wife's so tender-hearted she can't whip the cream.

White—Yeah! My wife won't beat the rugs and she cries every time she has to skin an onion.

GILLETTE TENT HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

Initiate New Members and Ballot on Many Others

Mary Jane Gillette Tent No. 18, Daughters of eVterans, held their regular business meeting at the American Legion hall last night.

Two new members were initiated, Mrs. Clara Hamilton and Miss Essie Wilson. Several candidates were also balloted upon.

Plans were completed for the chicken dinner to be given for the members of M. P. Banks post, G. A. R., at the home of Mrs. Jos. V. Griffin, 205 West Acacia avenue, next Friday at 12:00.

A very pleasing address was given by Mrs. Haak of Denver, Colorado, who is visiting here.

GLENDALE BOOKLET WINS NEW CITIZEN

Hartley Wagel of Champaign, Ill., is in Glendale to stay. He heard of Glendale through the chamber of commerce and it was the literature of this organization that resulted in him coming here.

Some time ago Mr. and Mrs. Wagel felt they wanted to come to California—in fact, they had decided t odo so. Mr. Wagel wrote to every city of any size in this state and secured descriptive literature from these places. As they went over this mass of booklets they were continually drawn back to the pamphlet on Glendale, that had been forwarded to him by the local chamber of commerce.

Finally this booklet won out. Mr. and Mrs. Wagel came to Glendale and have already purchased a home here.

UNION CRAFTS ARE INVITED TO PARTY

The executive committee of the Women's Union Labor League No. 400, held their regular business meeting yesterday afternoon for the purpose of completing plans for the Moonlight radio concert to be held Friday, August 11, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. STEELMAN SRETURN FROM COAST TRIP

Dr. C. Stuart Steelman, his wife and baby, have just returned from a week's motor trip to San Francisco. They went by the valley route and came home via the coast, and had an altogether delightful pleasure trip, stopping by the way to take in scenic points of interest. The doctor was especially impressed with the hospitality of the municipal auto camps maintained by many of the cities through which they passed and the lavish provisions for the comfort of tourists to whom they seem to be catering in a systematic way.

ONE HOUR SALES START AT PENDROY'S

Something new to Glendale is being started by the Pendroy store today in the one-hour sales, of which announcement is made in another column. During these sales big bargains can be had by shoppers who are there to take advantage of them. Thrifty, careful buyers will have opportunity to get a great deal for their money and the store will thus close out short lines in the various departments to make room for new fall goods.

A man who believed he knew all about parrots undertook to teach what he thought to be a young mute bird to say "Hello!" in one lesson. Going up to its cage, he repeated that word in a clear voice for several minutes, the parrot paying not the slightest attention. At the final "Hello!" the bird opened one eye, gazed at the man and snapped out, "Line's busy!"

W. A. HORN IS SURE OF IT NOW

W. A. Horn, 221 North Louise street, one of the prominent realtors of Glendale, has just returned from a two months' trip in the east. While away he visited in New York, Buffalo, Cleveland, Syracuse, N. Y., and other points.

The trip was made for the purpose of visiting the old home places of both Mr. and Mrs. Horn. They had a really delightful trip, but when seen last night, Mr. Horn said:

"There is absolutely no place like Glendale. There is no argument."

GOOD BOUTS ARE STAGED IN CITY

The first fight card staged by the Modern Woodmen last night was a success. Johnny Meyers won his bout with "Chick" Watkins, substituting for "Young" Stone, on referee's decision.

Ralph Meyers won his bout with "Kid" Rex of Burbank in the first round over the knockout route.

"Kid" Essick won his match with "Battling" King by decision. The Walter Dodge and Casa Grande match ended with victory for Dodge. The curtain raiser between Pitcher and "Young" King was a draw.

Pacific-Southwest Review

By D. H. SMITH
Mgr. Brand Boulevard Branch Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank

That the recent merger of the banks in 24 California cities resulted in immediate benefit to the entire state of California is evidenced by two striking incidents which occurred within a week of the completion of the merger.

The first was the financing of the $400,000 bond issue needed for the erection of the $1,000,000 eight-story hotel to be built by the Sun-Maid Hotel Corporation in Fresno.

These bonds were purchased by the Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank and the First Securities Company on the date that the merger was completed, and nothing now stands in the way of the erection of the new building.

In addition to this, the merger has also made possible the financing of the entire raisin crop of the San Joaquin Valley as one unit through a credit advance to the Associated Raisin Growers of $4,600,000. This advance was worked out in the Fidelity of Fresno Branch and the papers were completed by J. Dabney Day, vice-president of the First National Bank of Los Angeles.

Under the plan as completed, the First National Bank of Los Angeles, the Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank and the Mercantile Trust Company of San Francisco underwrite the entire line of credit upon an acceptance basis.

This is the first time that it has ever been possible for the raisin growers to finance a season's crop as a unit. Lacking legal loan limits in Fresno necessary to handle the raisin crop of the San Joaquin Valley, it has been necessary in the past for the raisin growers to split up their loans among a large number of banks and to meet the requirements of each separate banker, both as to maturity and rate of interest.

The result has been that the officers of the Associated Raisin Growers have in the past found it necessary to spend a good deal of time and effort in the matter of their financing.

This new merger, however, permitted the financing of the entire crop in one transaction at an equitable rate of interest and for a liberal length of time. The effect of the entire transaction has been to stabilize the raisin market and to benefit every raisin grower and marketer in California. In the end such financing methods should also tend to bring into all of the Pacific-Southwest increased population and increased business prosperity through the proper development of basic agricultural and industrial enterprises.

It was because of the opportunity to carry on such work on a definite business basis and to give to the San Joaquin Valley the legal loan limits necessary for the development of her agricultural and industrial interests that the Fidelity Trust and Savings Bank joined with the banks in Hanford, Lindsay, Tulare and Visalia in the merger with the Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank.

As a further evidence of intention to serve the entire territory, application has already been made for changing the name of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank, and when legal steps have been completed, the organization will become known as the Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings Bank—a name which will more logically define the territory to be served by the merged institution.

In order that the business interests of the San Joaquin Valley may be advanced, this statement will appear in the papers of 24 California cities.

Truths in Epigram

Were I a nightingale, I would act the part of a nightingale; were I a swan, the part of a swan.—Epictetus (60 A. D.).

Ignorance plays the chief part among men, and the multitude of words; but opportunity will prevail.—Laertius (200 A. D.).

Fortune leaves always some door open to come at a remedy.—Cervantes (1547-1616).

THE JUDICIARY

One of the most important matters that will be presented to the voters at the coming primaries and election is the selection of the judiciary. This year judges for the superior, appellate and supreme courts are to be elected. In the final analysis, the courts determine and define property and personal rights. In few positions has the constitution or statutes vested authority and power calling for a greater degree of mental balance, conscientious endeavor and extended knowledge and sympathy in human affairs.

While these facts will readily be admitted, it is equally true that the great majority of the voters are not in a position to acquire, individually, the information necessary to make an intelligent selection from the judicial candidates. It is significant that at the last election, about one-third of the voters did not vote on the judicial candidates. Evidently this was because these voters, not having satisfactory information, preferred not to vote at all on the judges.

In a number of the eastern and middle western cities, the bar associations at the request of the voters, make indorsements, this in the belief of the voters that the lawyers have better opportunity to determine the merits of the judicial candidates.

Last year, when Governor Stephens was about to appoint three new judges, the Los Angeles County Bar association proposed to the governor that a vote be taken of all practicing lawyers in Los Angeles county on the candidates whose names were presented. The governor consented in the belief that the appointments would thus be taken out of the realm of politics.

The four candidates who received the highest vote of the lawyers were certified to the governor, out of which number, three were appointed. It is generally conceded that no judicial appointments have met with more universal approval than the three thus made.

The Los Angeles Bar association has again conducted a plebescite among the practicing lawyers in Los Angeles county. The names of thirteen candidates for superior judgeship were presented. The six receiving the highest votes were to be endorsed for election to the six judgeships to be filled.

This endorsement should be of great aid to the voters. In order to prevent the selection because of personal or social reasons, every lawyer was required to vote for six, no more, no less. If, perchance a lawyer were moved to vote for his personal friend, for reasons that do not go to the real merits, on the other five for whom he is required to vote, personal considerations would not control. His vote would be his candid judgment as to the real qualifications of the men he voted for.

Let it not be assumed that the lawyers are controlled by sentiment in their votes. Every lawyer realizes that his interest in the judiciary is for his clients for whom he appears in court. A lawyer advising his client on any legal proposition wants to feel that when he takes his client into court, the judge will have the ability to interpret, and the integrity to dispense the law. Where the judge does not possess these qualities, every lawyer presents his client's cause in trepidation and uncertainty.

The Los Angeles County Bar association has rendered a valuable service to the voters of the county in taking this vote and making its endorsement. The lay voter may safely vote for the candidates for the judiciary endorsed by the votes of this body.

GOVERNMENTAL AUTHORITY

Some of the railroad executives declare with great frankness that the government has no authority over them. This is another fashion of saying that the railroad executives have authority over the government, an hypothesis difficult to establish. Happy the outcome if no occasion shall arise for putting the matter to a test. Were it to arrive, the prudent man, if inclined to wager, would place his money on the government.

Certainly a government unable to control such individuals or groups as might desire to interfere with its functioning, would lack adequacy. The free movement of persons and of materials is essential to maintenance of normal conditions. The government, through a duly constituted board, named terms on which railroad activity should be continued. These terms were not acceptable to employees. Followed protest, strike, confusion and loss. Then the government stipulated resumption of relations, and this time the employers took exception to the ruling. Each side desires its own way.

There is a large public, at present inconvenienced, and fearing greater inconvenience. This public, too, has rights. It looks to the government for protection of these rights. It desires that justice be done as to each party in the controversy, but pending adjustment it does not concede to either party the privilege of disregarding the equally precious rights of the vast majority, which constitutes the public.

Doubtless the government would be glad to avoid the responsibility of running the railroads, or the mines, but doubtless the government is capable, if forced, of doing both.

In a late issue the news columns contained mention of three arrests. One was that of a man charged with receiving stolen diamonds. This man was out on parole after serving about half of a ten-year term for homicide. The second arrest was that of a man once sentenced to life imprisonment for murder. The accusation this time is that of kidnaping. The third man was charged with passing a bad check. He admitted being on parole from Folsom. Two men about to be hanged for murdering two Los Angeles police officers were on parole from Utah at the time of the killing. When the general subject of parole is under consideration, these simple facts would seem to be worth taking into account.

Forest fires are raging in the northwest this year with peculiar intensity. Added to the dryness of the summer there have been many storms marked by lightning enough to start the flames, and by too little rain to extinguish them. Some of these fires rage in sections wholly inaccessible, and may be viewed from a distance with regret, and that is all.

Probably one reason that so little excitement has been occasioned by charges of extravagance against the administration of Governor Stephens, is the general knowledge that the charges are baseless. Moreover, the persons bringing them have enough intelligence to be aware of their falsity.

When railroad executives declined to be guided by the suggestions of the President they showed that they regarded their own affairs as of more importance than the affairs of the public. It is likely they will find the public slow in endorsing this view.

NATURE'S PROLETARIAT

By DR. FRANK CRANE

The proletariat of Nature is the Microbe.

Millions upon millions of these little people are working twenty-four hours a day with no strikes and no rest.

DR. FRANK CRANE

The greatest advance in modern science is in the direction of learning how to use these laborers for the welfare of mankind and to divert them from the destruction of human life.

Undoubtedly the greatest phenomenon in Nature is Life.

The huge living organisms are most striking, such as the elephant, the eagle, and the whale. But they are not so important to human life as the little creatures who lodge in a drop of water or take refuge under the finger nail.

The microbes are Nature's scavengers. It is they who reduce all dead bodies to their original elements.

It was about eighty years ago that Cagniard Latour and Schwann discovered that what is known as yeast is really composed of an infinite number of little bodies, endowed with powers of growth and multiplication and hence undoubtedly alive.

Pasteur found that there are as many different tribes of yeast people as of human people, and that they differ from one another as Saxons from Zulus or Arabs from Chinese, but that they were all endowed with the power of elaborating alcohol from sugar.

Microbes are of enormous commercial value to mankind.

They turn cider into vinegar and milk into junket. They make lager and wine. They produce butter and cheese. Even the flavor of a fine cigar depends upon the particular kind of microbe that has affected the fermentation of the tobacco leaf.

The tanning of leather is due to microbe action, and in the preparation of indigo and many other vegetable dyes the color is produced through the energies of microbes.

The rotting of flax is expedited by the action of butyric acid microbes.

Regiments and companies of this vast army are incessantly engaged within the human body. It is they who assist to turn the starch of our food into sugar, and in all the other various processes of digestion.

To give one illustration: if it had not been for the action of the microbes in removing dead leaves, the forests of earth would long ago have disappeared, buried under mountains of undecayed foliage.

Back of all human life and its phenomena stretches this gray mass of infinite microscopical life. We know but little about it as yet.

But we know that out of it come those strange diseases, such as yellow fever, smallpox, and cholera, that decimate the human race.

And when some new and strange malady shall come and perhaps remove the human race entirely, no man can tell.

The Hindenburg line, front line of defense of the human race, is occupied by those scientists who are combating the microbe.

QUERIES

(Find the error in this article)

The Nature of "Soonest"

Miss Rae Corn:. "I would appreciate it very much if you would advise me whether the following sentence is correct: 'That is the soonest I could come'." Answer: Correct: That is as soon as I can come (future); That was as soon as I could come (past). SOON is not an adjective in modern English, and SOONEST should not be used as an adjective; as, that is the soonest (time) I could come. AS SOON AS is good idiomatic English.

Possession Emphasized

H. C. Burne: "Which is correct, 'a friend of the writer's,' or, 'a friend of the writer'? Also, should a singular verb be used in the following sentence, and why: 'Our every word and act has proved it'? If every were omitted one would have to say, 'Our word and act have proved it'." Answer: Either "a friend of the writer" or "a friend of the writer's" is correct; the latter form is idomatic. The use of the word EVERY makes a subject singular, and, therefore, HAS PROVED is correct.

The Collective Noun

H. P.: "I am sure you must be getting weary answering queries concerning the collective noun. May I ask one more? Is it correct to say: "The oil corporation has five refineries'; or should I say, 'The corporation have five refineries'?" Answer: Use the singular number, since the "corporation" is considered a legal unit.

Yesterday's Error

". . . lifted the injured woman from the fence."

The right word is off; as, lifted the woman off the fence.

Vocabulary

"A white cat, stealing with wary look and stealthy pace towards the stables, as if on some nefarious expedition."—Irving.

Nefarious: "Wicked in the extreme; heinous, sinful; vile."—Standard.

Pronunciation: ni-fa' ri-us (i as in habit; a as in ape; i as in habit; u as in but).—Standard, Webster, Century and Oxford.

Origin: nefarius (Latin).

THE LISTENING POST

A fighting chance.
That is an old expression.
It was the utmost that strong men were supposed to ask.
A fighting chance.
Not favoritism.
Not exceptional opportunity.
Not the best of it, as the boys say.
But a fighting chance.

* * *

A fighting chance meant a chance to fight a way through.
On fairly even terms.
Whether it was to fight a way through physical dangers and obstacles.
Or to fight a way through the battles of daily life.
A fighting chance was all a strong man was supposed to ask.

* * *

A fighting chance meant that you were willing to exchange fair blows.
With a foeman or with fate.
It meant that you were willing to undergo hardships.
Strive against hardships.
Blaze trails in dangerous fastnesses.

* * *

A fighting chance meant that men were willing to earn what they got.
Indeed, they were more than willing they were eager to earn it.
It meant that men did not seek or ask unfair advantages.
They did not ask to begin at the top.
They were willing to fight their way up.

* * *

All the revolutionists asked in 1776 was a fighting chance.
All Washington asked was a fighting chance.
Columbus took a fighting chance.
For he fought his way against ridicule, unbelief, hazard and the unknown.
But he was willing to take a fighting chance.
Every man who has served the world in the field of conspicuous endeavor asked no more than a fighting chance.
Meaning that he asked no more than opportunity and the chance to make the most of it.
He did not ask special favors.
He did not ask support that he did not deserve and had not earned.

* * *

So the most that any of us should ask is a fighting chance.
The young man a fighting chance to make his way in the world.
The preacher a fighting chance with evil.
The teacher a fighting chance with darkness and ignorance.
The genius a fighting chance for recognition.
The athlete a fighting chance for victory.

* * *

And in most instances the world offers us the fighting chance.
The persons who have achieved asked no more.
But they took advantage of it.
They exchanged fair blows with fate.
They grappled with misfortune.
They rose above discouragement.

* * *

You have it.
As long as you have breath left in your body.
And spirit in your soul.
You have the fighting chance.
If you are broken to be strong again.
If you have fallen to rise.
If you are down to get on your feet again.
If you are dishonored to be rehabilitated.
If you are unsuccessful to achieve success.

* * *

But the fighting chance means the fighting spirit in you.
The never-say-die.
The I-won't-quit.
The captaincy of the soul.

SONGS OF THE POETS

A Song—By Lord John Cutts (1661-1685)

Only tell her that I love:
Leave the rest to her and fate:
Some kind planet from above
May perhaps her pity move:
Lovers on their stars must wait—
Only tell her that I love.

Why, O why should I despair!
If she once vouchsafe to hear,
Welcome Hope and farewell Fear!
She's too good to let me die—
Why, O why should I despair.

PICNICING CHIGGER HAS DARK PAST

Why is a chigger? The ankle-scratching vacationist may ask himself the question, but according to Dr. H. E. Ewing, of the Smithsonian Institution, not only is there no answer but where it goes in the fall and winter and what forms it passes through and just how long it operates in the summer are mysteries which no entomological Sherlock Holmes has ever been able to solve.

Like most folks with a bad reputation, Dr. Ewing points out, the chigger sometimes gets blamed for that which it is not responsible. Fleas, other insects, and nettling plants cause many of the so-called chigger bites while food and hot weather may produce hives which is often mistaken for the work of the dweller in the blackberry patch.

Popular opinion also credits this mite with burrowing into the human body, or climbing through the holes in the skin. Dr. Ewing says, however, that this is wrong. As small as the chigger is, about two thousandths of an inch, it is not so small as the skin pore and the microscope has shown that it does not dig in, but merely attaches itself to the skin by means of its mouth parts.

It is easier for it to attach itself to tender skin and for that reason women and children appear to suffer more from the attacks than men. Nobody is immune, however, and the difference in injury to members of the same picnic party is largely a question of difference in clothing, especially about the feet and ankles. Wrapped leggins furnish almost complete protection against this pest which works from the ground up and seldom gets above the belt.

Kerosene, oil of citronella, ammonia, cooking soda and camphor are said to be good palliatives, as is alcohol. An alcohol rub hardens the skin, making it difficult for the chigger to attach itself and kills the little pest in from one to three minutes.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

HARDING IS RIGHT

[St. Albans Messenger]

President Harding has so conducted himself since he assumed office as to make it plain that he had had no desire to attempt to run governmental affairs with a lone hand. Therefore, when he says, as he did recently at Columbus, that there are too many who profess to be republicans who are attempting to "attract attention to themselves" instead of working for the good of the party and the country, he is not under suspicion of being actuated by any feeling of jealousy.

What Mr. Harding means is that in this country where party responsibility exists, members of the congress elected from a certain party should work in unison toward a definite goal of national progress along the traditional lines of that party.

Mr. Harding has a party as well as a national responsibility. He believes thoroughly in the principles of republicanism as being best fitted for the nation. It is through the republican party, and only through it, that he can work. He is at the head of the party, as well as being executive head of the nation. It seems like a dual role, but in reality it is only one. If necessary, he will be justified in assuming active leadership of the party in a proper way, and he is justified in making it plain that if republican principles do not prevail to the extent wished for it will be due, not to failure of the principles themselves, but to the acts of those who sought and accepted office as republicans and then turned their back on their responsibilities.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

An eminent English jurist now visiting this country has been explaining the differences between American and English court procedure, particularly as to the jury system. The facts are to the disadvantage of the American way. There is no aspersion involved in declaring a simple truth that already is accepted by a large proportion of intelligent people.

HENRY JAMES

The Englishman has an especial admiration for the jury plan of Scotland. There the jury is certain to bring in a verdict, for the majority rules. In neither England or Scotland is there difficulty in getting a jury. There are no requirements that the talesmen shall demonstrate their ignorance before being accepted. In selection of a jury the English courts consume about as many minutes as an American court consumes days. In the end the English have a competent jury, and very often it happens that the Americans have not.

The visiting jurist believes in the jury system as opposed to the substitution of a board of trial judges. He does not hesitate while expressing himself with utmost courtesy, to say that reforms are necessary in this country.

Criminal trials often are such travesties that they are shocking to all observers, and must be even more poignantly so to the trained mind accustomed to dealing with every form of civil and criminal litigation.

An Oakland man has been sentenced not to enter an automobile for five years. To abide by the terms will be a matter of extreme difficulty. Perhaps a simpler course would have been to place him for that period within an enclosure where there is a total absence of such machines.

The man had run down and killed a pedestrian, and having done this, fled from the spot. Thus, even had the accident not been his fault, he would have committed a felony. All in all, he gets off lightly. Almost daily somebody employs an automobile as a deadly weapon, and rides away.

It is a deplorable fact that every area wherein flourish proper and substantial activities, gives opportunity to the swindler. 'Twas ever thus, and so probably 'twill ever be; owing to the birth-rate reputed to be one a minute.

Probably the mania for censorship will run its course, subsiding for a time. It will revive as often as the chronic reformer of other people experiences a spasm of virtue.

There is a proposal now to censor all books. Even the newspaper editors are to have the finishing touch put on their work by censors who know nothing about any sort of journalism save that it is wicked.

Books, too. Art likewise.

Sermons sometimes indicate that a restraining hand was needed before the author turned them loose.

Getting down to brass tacks, there ought to be a censorship of the laundries, making the frayed collar a misdemeanor, and the rended buttonhole a felony.

There really is no end, once the fad for censorship gets a fair start.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

If you had ever known Jerry when he was going good you'd sympathize with him. Jerry never checked in at home more than five nights out of a possible seven. His wife kept dinner hot until half past six o'clock and then ate it alone. He knew every juggler, handball player, song and dance artist, amateur boxer, and baseball phenomenon in the world. He was an authority on sporting records.

"The best fellow in the world," his friends said.

"Sure, he is that," said Mrs. Jerry. "And the biggest heart. Never an unkind word have I heard from him. But——"

Jerry lost his wife and for a time it hit him pretty hard. But he married again, and last night I saw Jerry for the first time since his marriage. Still wears the wide checks and the cheery hats and the heigh-ho neckties and the fancy-work shoes and the striking socks. But when the clock struck eleven——

"My gosh!" said Jerry. "Where's that telephone?" And in a moment we heard Jerry cooing.

"Sweetie," he said. "Lovely Bird. Dancing Eyes. Is 'oo angry because old Jerry is a little late?"

Snap. The receiver at the other end was snicked back on the hook. Jerry said he had to go. He had to check in for dinner each night, he said, or——

"But what could she do to you, Jerry?" the bunch asked. The bunch laughed. It was truly funny to see Jerry, amateur wrestler, amateur boxer, amateur oarsman, excellent athlete, under the thumb of tyranny. Jerry said he didn't know what she might do to him. He did know one thing——

"She's the only person in the world who ever got me bluffed," said Jerry. And he toddled off home, his head sunk between his shoulders. "I can't do a thing with her," said Jerry as he said goodby. "She isn't reasonable. I never get a night off."

What's the answer? The bunch failed to guess it. Jerry loves her, of course, or he would not tamely submit. But Jerry cannot be made to pull the time clock every night of his life. One must take a little time out in the love game. She loves him, or she would not be so violently jealous of every hour spent away from her. But if she does not learn generously to give her husband an occasional run with the pack there will be an explosion.

Neither one of that pair knows how to bend.

JUST BETWEEN OURSELVES

By DELLA E. STEWART

How time lessens emotions! Even the most poignant of them! We should remember this when we come face to face with some life sorrow. Time will surely bring some measure of assuagement.

Into what heights of patriotic fervor the world war tossed us! Some one recently expressed its decline in this way: "1918, 'immortal heroes of Cantigny and the Argonne'; 1919, former fighters for Uncle Sam'; 1920, 'veterans of the world war,' 1922, 'the ex-service element.'" In 1918, hyperbole; in 1922, deflation. It is the way of all high sentiment. We do not stay long on the mountain top. Everyday life claims us, and in its struggles we grow unmindful of the past. Permanent gratitude for any service is rare indeed. It's deplorable, but true.

Sorrow, too, will pass. Few of us there are who are long claimed by the first agony of grief or disappointment, though in its first throes we think it is to be unending. A few there are who hug tightly bitter remembrance and seem to find their enjoyment the negative one of sorrowing. But for most of us blackness fades gradually—and mercifully—and sunlight comes on once more.

Life would be so uninspiring were it not for its heights. It would be so flatly monotonous were it not for its depths. Learning to look sensibly on both heights and depths gives us the sense of balance which will carry us safely through each when our path lies that way. Unreasoning despair, undue elation—in these ways madness lies.

EXPERT CATERERS BUY GLEN INN CAFE

C. J. Pagones and L. R. Boulais Bring Wide Experience to Glendale

Among the most important changes in the business personnel of Glendale during the past month was the sale of the Glen Inn cafe to Messrs. C. J. Pagones and L. R. Boulais, two gentlemen who have successfully operated cafes in six states of the middle west.

Although the deal has been made for several days, the new owners did not care to make the announcement until they had completed the many new improvements which they have put in and which will enable them to give much better service to their patrons. Both men are experienced caterers and say that the best is none too good for Glendale.

A large ice box has been installed in the kitchen and a new 24-foot soda fountain put in. An expert chef has been placed in charge of the kitchen, and the motto of the new proprietors will be to "give service when you want and as you want it." Special Sunday dinners will be one of the big features. A pastry department has been added to the Glen Inn and it is now possible for patrons to buy home-made cakes like mother used to make, to take home. Hot bread, etc., will be made, and patrons provided with most anything they want.

Messrs. Pagones and Boulais feel that their efforts will be appreciated in giving Glendale a cafe which will be an asset to the town, and they should be given a liberal patronage.

A. A. BARTON IS ENTHUSIASTIC

Voluntarily Subscribes to Hotel and Electric Line Projects

One of the most public-spirited citizens in Glendale is A. A. Barton, who lives near the corner of Louise and Mountain streets, away up in the northern section of the city.

When the committee in charge of securing subscriptions for the hotel on Glendale avenue and Broadway was hrad at work, Mr. Barton called up headquarters and requested that a solicitor call on him. When the member of the committee called at his home, Mr. Barton made a very substantial subscription to the hotel.

Not content with this, he stated that he wanted also to help in the electrifying of the line on Glendale avenue, and he has also made a very substantial subscription toward that proposition.

"Each of these enterprises will mean much to Glendale," said Mr. Barton, "and I want to get in on both of them. What helps the east side of town also helps the west side, and the only way Glendale can get ahead is through cooperation. I am glad to do all I can to keep the wheels of progress moving."

GOOD MIDSUMMER MEETING OF K. OF P. HELD

Rank of Esquire Conferred and Dance Is Voted for August 29

There was an excellent attendance on the meeting of the Knights of Pythias lodge in Castle hall, Tuesday evening, in spite of the fact that so many Glendallans are away at beach or mountain resorts. The rank of esquire was put on for one candidate, and the lodge voted to give a dance on the evening of the last Tuesday in the month, August 29, which will be an invitation affair.

Next Tuesday evening the lodge will put on the rank of knight for three candidates, and the session will be followed by a banquet. Hollywood lodge has been invited to participate.

The fortnight's sessions of the supreme lodge, which is meeting in San Francisco, will end next week, and then it is expected the local lodge will have opportunity to entertain some of the supreme representatives from the east, as they will spend about a month visiting the subordinate lodges in Southern California before returning to their homes.

James Hunter, supreme representative from Iowa, an old and intimate friend of Frank Willetts of this lodge, will be one of the guests who will visit Glendale. Mr. Willetts served under him in Iowa as district deputy, when Mr. Hunter was grand chancellor of that state. The two had not met for 12 years until last Thursday, when Mr. Willetts went to the Los Angeles station to meet the K. of P. special, and Mr. Hunter immediately spied him. It will be a great pleasure to both men to renew their acquaintance.

MUSIC FOLKS TO ATTEND RECEPTION

The Federation of Music clubs will hold a luncheon and reception at the Ambassador hotel September 5 in honor of the national president, Mrs. Theodore Thomas. The Glendale Music club members and their friends are cordially invited to attend. Reservations may be secured from Mrs. Warren Roberts, 617 East Elk avenue, phone Glendale 772-W. All reservations must be made before September 4.

Following the luncheon, a delightful program will be presented. All members should make a special effort to attend.

"HURRICANE'S GAL" AT THE T D & L

Patrons of the motion picture theatre whose preference runs to stories of the great outdoors—stories of fast action and a liberal supply of real thrills—are having their appetites satiated in thorough fashion at the T. D. & L. theatre this week, where Allen Holubar's "Hurricane's Gal," a First National attraction, starring Dorothy Phillips, is being shown.

It would seem as if Mr. Holubar had set out to produce a picture that would prove a whirlwind in the swiftness of its development, its suspense and the interest it maintains, for, by utilizing the sea and the air, he has secured a vehicle that carries furious activity throughout and provides contrast which presents Dorothy Phillips both as a wild, untamed daughter of the sea and as the regenerated being in her proper place in a San Francisco mansion.

A man's unreliability often exceeds his assets.

CITY PRINTING

ORDINANCE NO. 632

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE GOVERNMENT AND REGULATION OF MUNICIPAL SWIMMING POOLS AND PROVIDING FOR THE COLLECTION OF FEES FOR THE USE OF MUNICIPAL SWIMMING POOLS OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE:

Section 1. It shall be the duty of the Swimming Pool Superintendent of the City of Glendale, to establish, subject to the approval of the City Manager, such rules and regulations for the government of the Municipal Swimming Pools of the City of Glendale, as may be necessary for the preservation and safeguarding of the public peace, health and safety. It shall be the duty of the Swimming Pool Superintendent to enforce all such rules and regulations. It shall also be the duty of the Swimming Pool Superintendent to collect in advance from every person entering any Municipal Swimming Pool in the City of Glendale, a fee therefor as provided in Section 2 hereof.

Section 2. The fees to be collected shall be as follows:

(a) For all children under the age of sixteen years—

1. For use of towel five (5) cents;
2. For use of bathing suit five (5) cents:
3. For use of pool five (5) cents, except that when any child under the age of sixteen years shall have paid the fees for both use of towel and suit, no charge shall be made for the use of pool.

(b) For all persons of the age of sixteen years or over—

1. For use of towel five (5) cents;
2. For use of bathing suit five (5) cents;
3. For use of pool fifteen (15) cents.

Section 3. Bathing caps, combs and similar small stores purchased by the City may be sold by the Swimming Pool Superintendent at prices fixed by the City Manager.

Section 4. Upon the written representation of either parent or of the guardian of any child or children under the age of sixteen years made to the Assistant Director of the Welfare Bureau that the payment of the fees provided in Section 2 hereof, for the use of towel, bathing suit or pool by said child or children, would work a hardship on said parent or person standing in the place of said parent and that by reason whereof such child or children cannot enjoy the privileges of the pool enjoyed by their playmates, it shall be the duty of the Assistant Director of the Welfare Bureau to fully investigate such representation and if, after such investigation, she believes such representations to be true, she shall issue to such child or children a permit entitling such child or children when properly identified to the person in charge of such pool, to the free use of a suit each and the free use of the pool not over four times in any one week.

Section 5. The Swimming Pool Superintendent shall once in each day deposit with the City Treasurer all money collected by him under the provisions of this Ordinance, and file with the City Controller a duplicate of the receipt from the City Treasurer for such deposit.

Section 6. This Ordinance is necessary as an emergency measure for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety and is urgently required therefor, for the reasons that the first municipal swimming pool of the City of Glendale to be constructed is completed and ready for use, and the use thereof without rules and regulations being made for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, would endanger the lives, health, peace and safety of persons using said swimming pool, and this Ordinance shall, therefore, take effect on its passage.

The City Clerk shall certify to the passage of this Ordinance and cause it to be published once in the Glendale Daily Press, the official newspaper of said City.

Passed by the Council of the City of Glendale, on th's 7th day of August, 1922.

KENTS RETURN FROM THE NORTH

Roy L. Kent and family returned Tuesday night from an automobile tour which took them across the line to Victoria, Canada. It is a part of the country they had not visited before, and Mr. Kent was much delighted with the scenery.

They went by the inside routes, through the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys, returning via the coast routes, and traversing the redwood highway, covering, all told, about 3500 miles.

Mr. Kent found business good, particularly with the lumber mills, which are running night and day. A great deal of building is in progress in Seattle, oPrtland and Tacoma, where a 19-story sky scraper is going up. All in all, commercial conditions are highly encouraging in the north, he says.

GLENDALIANS IN HOLLYWOOD BOXING

EPWORTH LEAGUE PLANS PICNIC

The executive members of the Epworth League of the Pacific avenue Methodist church, held their regular business meeting August 8, in the church parlors, the president, Mr. Harold Hemingway, presiding.

Following the regular transaction of business, Mrs. Donald A. Magill, fourth vice-president of the league, gave a very interesting report of the Epworth League Institute held at the Pacific Palisades, Santa Monica, the last week in July. Mrs. Magill was one of the delegate and she has outlined a very interesting program for her department for the coming year.

Plans were made for a picnic supper to be held at Echo park August 25. The committees are busy working on some very interesting plans for games and other amusements—so a good time is in store for everyone. Be sure and keep this date open.

"IF AT FIRST YOU DON'T SUCCEED
Her Sire—Out seven nights a week is going it a little too strong, even though I am willing to let you have your fling.
The Flapper—Yes, I know, dad, but girls fling so badly they have to try it over and over.

BUS TO SWIMMING POOL IS STARTED

The Pacific Electric company has agreed to stop its west side bus several times during the day at the Patterson avenue park. This action resulted from a communication to the railroad company by City Manager Reeves, asking that this service to the park be established. The city manager's letter requested that the company stop its bus at the plunge on each of its western trips, but the company came back with an offer to stop several times during the day, but stated that if the bus called at the plunge every trip it would necessitate the purchase of an additional bus at a cost of $5000.

MRS. BONDY IS A NEW BRIDE

The many friends of Mrs. Jennie Bondy will be interested to know of her marriage last week, to Mr. A. H. Bartlett of San Francisco. They were married in Los Angeles with only a few intimate friends of the couple witnessing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett will make their home at 425 Fernando court.

AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION OPENS WORK

Convention of Lawyers at San Francisco Gets Underway

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—The American Bar association convention opened its annual session here today.

Discussion of practically every phase of law, national and international, will take place during the three-day session.

The greatest legal minds in America are represented on the extensive program, and notable addresses will also be delivered by Lord Shaw of Dunfermline, honorary delegate of Great Britain, and M. Henry Aubepin of Paris, representing the bar of France.

Today's session was featured by the address of welcome of Gov. William D. Stephens, and the address of President Cordenio A. Severance of Minnesota. Reports of the secretary, treasurer and executive committee, and the nomination and election of new members also took place.

During the afternoon a joint session of the American Bar association and California Bar association was held, Jefferson P. Chandler, president of the California Bar association presiding.

The meeting was concluded by an important address by Gov. Henry J. Allen of Kansas on the legal achievements of the Kansas industrial court.

Tonight's session will be featured by the addresses of Lord Shaw of Dunfermline and M. Henry Aubepin, the election of the general council and the president's reception.

Last night Chief Justice Taft, the Hon. John W. Davis, former ambassador to Great Britain, and the Hon. George W. Wickersham delivered addresses before the California branch of the English-Speaking union, of which Taft was formerly president, and of which Davis is now honorary president.

The broad field of work covered by the association was indicated by the scope of subjects touched upon by the reports of committees on their work of the past year.

The reports will be presented, discussed and acted upon by the general convention during the afternoon session Thursday and the morning session Friday.

Especial attention was paid by the committee on professional ethics to the alleged abuses of "patent attorneys," who are advertising extensively.

Most of these "attorneys," the committee reported, are not attorneys-at-law, but are laymen who have standing merely as agents of inventors, and who are registered as "attorneys-in-fact" with the patent office. The committee declared that most of those who get into the hands of such attorneys believe they are obtaining legal advice when such is not the case.

The committee recommended that the commissioner of patents adopt a rule prohibiting the solicitation of business by such "registered patent attorneys," at least insofar as they describe themselves as "attorneys." The same recommendation was made in regard to laymen who advertise as "income tax attorneys."

The committee on commerce, trade and commercial law made a number of important recommendations regarding changes in commercial ethics and status at law. The committee recommended that attention be given to the establishment of a general system of United States commercial courts, along the lines of the English commercial courts.

The committee on international law made the important recommendation that the United States "find a way to make use of the international court of arbitration at the Hague, and participate in its labors, which the government of the United States can do without becoming a party to the League of Nations as such. The committee ventures these suggestions without expressing an opinion in favor or opposed to the present League of Nations." The International Tribunal was highly praised, and Elihu Root's part in its formation given especial commendatory recognition.

The provision of Root, drafted in 1920 and adopted by the committee of jurists at the Hague, which invested the court with limited but obligatory jurisdiction—within which state may sue state, and in its absence, duly invited, obtain judgment upon the facts proved and the law applicable, was mutilated by the Hague council and assembly, which made jurisdiction depend solely upon the will of the litigating parties, both of which must consent to arbitrate, instead of upon the initiative of one, as in the case of other courts.

The committee recommended that the Root provisions making arbitration obligatory, and jurisdiction automatic, be restored.

The question of the treaty-making powers of the United States, and especially of the congressional declaration ending the state of war with Germany in 1921, were discussed by the same committee, which declared that the President alone had the treaty negotiating power, while congress had the power of ratification.

It commented on the skillful method in which President Harding allowed congress to pass the resolution merely as a resolution. The resolution did not, and could not legally, act as a treaty of peace, the committee said, but it left the President free to "secure by negotiation the rights enumerated in the joint congressional resolution."

The difficulty which presented itself—that Germany could not grant part of the rights—all of which had been granted the allied and associated powers—was "skillfully handled by Secretary Hughes' diplomacy," so that all the rights of the United States under the Versailles and other treaties have been maintained and recognized by the other powers, despite the fact that the United States actually has no status in those treaties.

The committee declared, however, that there is no other way than the old, established, constitutional one to negotiate and ratify a treaty, and that congress cannot by resolution, make a treaty of peace, or limit the President's peace-negotiating powers.

The intention of the United States to obtain a program of peaceful settlement, with the honorable avoidance of war and the consequent reduction of armament, begun by President Wilson in August 21, 1916, and its fruition into the arms limitation conference called by Secretary Hughes and President Harding on July 8, 1921, was discussed in detail by the committee.

"The conference on arms limitation and Far Eastern questions has restored the prestige of the United States in international affairs and assured it the moral leadership of the world," the committee declared, adding special praise for Secretary Hughes' work.

"The achievements of the past year are believed by this committee to be a justification of the substitution of the rule of law for the rule of force, and proves that the resumption of the orderly processes of development which preceded the World war would have prevented its outbreak if good faith had kept the upper hand of 'vaulting ambition, which o'erleaps itself.'"

CONCESSIONS AT PICNIC

The matter of the concessions at the Merchants' picnic in the new city park on August 16, was definitely decided by the city council Monday night. Decision reached was that the merchants will be given complete returns from all concessions except the dance hall. In regard to this feature the city and the merchants will go 50-50 the merchants to furnish the music and the city to furnish the hall.

Truth that occupies a nutshell finds some minds too narrow to give it room.

EAST SIDE HORSE SHOE - CROQUET CLUB TO MEET

Newest in the way of organization in Glendale stands the East Side Horse Shoe and Croquet club, which will hold its first meeting Thursday at 2 o'clock, on the grounds which are open for the use of the members, situated at the corner of Wilson and Glendale avenue, a lot with many huge eucalyptus trees.

At this first meeting, officers will be voted upon, laws and bylaws adopted, and, if a more suitable name than the present one is found, that will be chosen. It is expected that the membership will range from 50 to 100, as the old club numbered over 100.

Those who signed up as charter members were J. P. Lambert, Charles F. Stuart, A. W. Ingledue, Roy E. Green and J. N. Denham.

HAVE YOU YOUR FREE THEATRE TICKET?

Have you had your free theatre ticket yet? Well, maybe it is your fault, for the Glendale Daily Press has been giving away several tickets to the Glendale Theatre every day. All you have to do is to read the Classified page carefully and find your name among the advertisements or come into the Press office and buy a three-time classified advertisement and the ticket is yours.

Classified advertising is the best and cheapest means of disposing of anything you have to sell and you will be surprised at the results you will get from the little liners. Try it once and you will say so too. You have many things about the place which you could turn into cash, and which you are wondering how to get rid of. Try a Class Ad—it will do the work.

JINKS NIGHT PLANNED

The Glendale Elks' lodge held an uneventful meeting Monday night, but discussed plans for a jinks night to come off next Monday evening when a large attendance is expected. Invitations are being sent to all sister lodges within a radius of 25 miles and a big time is expected.

CHILE MODELS AFTER CAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—The government of Chile is encouraging the adoption of California's methods of packing, grading, shipping and drying fruit so far as practicable, according to Senator Jose Pedro Alessandri of Chile, brother of President Alessandri of that republic.

Senator Alessandri is now visiting California on a tour of inspection of the fruit industry. He is accompanied by Vincente Valdivia, an expert of the Chilean department of agriculture, and Gullermo Garcia Burn, a manufacturer of Santiago. Senator Alessandri owns two of the largest orchards in board of the United States during Chile. He declares soil and climatic conditions of Chile closely duplicate those of California. The same fruits are raised under the same conditions, ranging from tropical to the mountain peaks. As the seasons are directly opposed, the Chilean summer being the California winter, Chile, he declares, has an opportunity to export its fruits to the eastern seathe winter when prices are the highest and there is no competition with California fruits.

Senator Alessandri has inves gated the citrus industry in Sou ern California, the raisin indus around Fresno, and the cann and drying plants of the Sa Clara valley. He declares t Chile's grapes are now for most part being used in maki wines of the French type, the b in South America, but that it hoped to enter the raisin field an extensive scale.

PERFORMANCE PROVES SAVAGE TIRES Are BUILT TO EXCEL

IN LOS ANGELES, CALIF.

Opposite Pershing Square, Little Heap, trade character of The Spreckels "Savage" Tire Company, visualises the Biltmore Hotel now in the course of construction.

This series depicts the performance of Savage Tires in different localities. We do not cite, or endeavor to show, isolated cases of exceptional performance—almost any tire company can do that. We have endeavored, rather, to reflect a true condition, showing the very consistent and general satisfaction Savage Tires are giving under every type of service in each section of the country in which they are operating

Southern California is noted for its good roads and wonderful highways. A tire will surely give satisfaction under normal conditions here—if anywhere. To recite everyday instances of performance and mileage in this territory would be to paint an unusually glowing picture, for the ordinary run is not especially taxing on good makes of tires.

Worth while comparisons, pointing to the superiority of our product over other makes, can therefore be brought out best by citing unusual types of service, showing the durability, correct construction and economy of Savage tires in service which renders excessive stress and hard usage.

Unusual Service

A fleet of trucks operating throughout the city, making 250 to 400 stops a day, has been equipped with Savage Cords—solving the tire problem of this company by increasing their tire mileage 100%.

Another local corporation operating a fleet of 225 cars throughout Southern California has standardized on Savage tires after an exhaustive test in which our tires were compared with other makes under every existing local condition. Many of these cars are heavily loaded as a usual thing.

Savage Cords on one-ton Ford trucks loaded daily to 4000 and 4500 pounds are giving far greater service than any other tire equipment used in a similar manner by a local feed and fuel company.

A jobber sending salesmen into an outlying territory, where roads are particularly rocky, claims Savage Cords are the only tire that is capable of giving their men satisfactory service.

Tire men and motorists familiar with tire construction have found in the Savage Cord seventeen outstanding constructional features that make it the wonderful tire it is.

¶ Almost any tire will give satisfactory service under ideal conditions. Some makes will even render satisfactory service under certain adverse conditions. Certain makes of tires will perform best on long drives over pavements, other makes will show to better advantage on dirt highways—and so it goes.

¶ Our object has been to build Savage Tires to perform equally well under every condition—on the short haul of the heavily ladened commercial car, on the heated roads of the sandy desert, over mud and stones of the land of forests or the broad dirt highways of the plains.

¶ That we have accomplished our purpose is evident from the results users of Savage Tires are getting—everywhere.

BUSINESS HAS TURNED THE CORNER!

Babson, the Statistician, Shows Why Fundamentals Finally Justify Optimism

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., Aug. 5.—The high light of the ninth annual Wellesley conference, now meeting here for the discussion of conditions and business problems, was reached when Roger W. Babson announced a definite turn in business and showed why fundamental conditions indicate definite and substantial business recovery.

Standing before a Babsonchart 12 feet high and 30 feet long, Mr. Babson explained the situation.

"I have been waiting for over two years to be able to announce that the most drastic depression in business history has spent itself. Fundamental conditions finally indicate that a solid foundation is ready for general and substantial business improvement.

"The white line that I draw today divides the area of depression in half. Statistically it means we are at the exact bottom of the cycle. Practically it means that business will pick up this fall and that it should continue to improve for the next two or three years.

"Technically, the business cycle is composed of the four succeeding cycles of prosperity, decline, depression and improvement, but the average business man experiences but two conditions. Either sales are increasing and business is fine or they are falling off and he is in deep depression. His attitude changes, not as we pass from a period of prosperity above the XY line into a period of depression below, but as the white lines are drawn which divide these areas—when business changes its direction.

"When we had completed half of the depression in the middle of 1904, business began to improve and business men went into a state of phychological prosperity almost over night. We were running below normal, to be sure, but things were again headed in the right direction.

"Early in 1907 the panic set in and business confidence practically disappeared. We did not enter the area of actual depression until the fall of that same year.

"In April, 1908, another white line marked the turning point, and things boomed again until the long swing downward set in about June, 1910. This decline, while not drastic, kept business quiet until the middle of 1914, when things again turned upward. The war, with its feverish activity, carried us on until the middle of 1918, when the actual rise had spent itself. Rabid speculation and soaring prices put things up for another spurt, but actual production and general business activities were softening.

"The natural and inevitable reaction has kept business in mourning for two and a half years.

"The white line just drawn marks another turn for the better. Business is again headed in the right direction and you can go ahead with your plans. The banker can now loan with better confidence. The business man should announce his new product, open his new territory, increase his advertising and go after business, now!

"In spite of the fact that the stock market has already discounted the improvement to a large extent the investor can hold his stocks for the top of a bull market which is almost never reached until after the white line is drawn and general confidence has been restored. I personally believe," concluded Mr. Babson, "that the present market is little over half way to the top."

MISS CLEVELAND IS VISITING HOME

One of the guests from the east, who is summering in Glendale is Miss May Cleveland of New York City, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Cleveland. Miss Cleveland, who conducted quite a large commercial school for the training of executive secretaries, was called to New York to do work of that kind and is now serving three organizations of that kind. One is the Civic Forum, another the League for Political Education with a membership of 6000. Both of these are women's organizations. Another is "The Economic Club," which is an organization of men.

These organizations have done some very interesting things, one of which is the revival of the New England town hall, where local problems can be discussed by all the people. The "hall" is located on forty-third street, between Sixth and Broadway in the Times Square section, and the movement which is being watched with the greatest of interest, promises results of moment to the welfare of the great city.

Occasionally the clock does turn back in revivals of this sort and opportunity is given a chance to knock more than once on the door of progress.

AND THEN THEY DIE

Mary—What makes the leaves turn red in the fall?

Maude—I guess they are blushing to think of how green they have been all summer.

Sometime It Will Come

By MRS. S. C. HAZLETT-BEVIS

(The authoress passed away Monday, August 7, and is survived by her husband, Henry H. Bevis, at 470 Riverdale drive)

Sometime the day will come, my dearest,
When you or I no longer wait at even
For the coming form of one who is the nearest
Each to the other, on this earth or heaven.

A day will dawn when one of us stands lonely,
Thinking of the past and all it gave,
And if the love we bore each other only
Went beyond a lowly, grass-grown grave.

If, when the gates swung wide for some to enter,
You would stand waiting on the other side
For me, or I should linger—loving, tender,
Waiting at the golden gate for thee.

Ah, "sometime it will come," perhaps at twilight,
Sadder still at lonely midnight hour,
When we are thus stricken by the chilling blight
That comes to every human flower.

My tears fall now at even the thought of parting,
Then what would follow when real parting came?
Even as deep pains my heart for thee is darting,
So 'twould manifold in greater name.

Then, darling, as we know an hour is coming,
Or a day—it may be many years—
When we, as in all Nature summing,
Say, "Good-bye, love,' low, with falling tears,

Let us prove by every passing hour of living,
That purest love and trust are best, and yet
When mistakes come, be even so forgiving
That death will bring no shadow of regret.

PICNIC WEDDING BELLE WILL NOT RING

Secretary Pilling Is Unable to Locate Willing Couple

The plan to have a wedding at the merchants' picnic on August 16 is all off. There is nothing doing. Secretary Pilling of the Glendale Credit association has despaired of finding a couple willing to say "I do" before the crowd that is anticipated at the picnic and has decided to call off the event.

Mr. Pilling, in cancelling the event, said: "Cupid is a willing worker but when it comes to taking the vow in the open, before hundreds of people, that is where his victims balk. They just won't do it."

Come to think of it an alfresco wedding would be a difficult affair to engineer. Suppose for instance: Just as the bride is about to say "I do," a fat caterpillar should crawl across her neck. It would just about break up the party.

Imagine the moral effect on the newly wedded couple should they learn, after the ceremony, that they had been standing in a patch of poison oak while taking their vows. Wouldn't that tend to poison their future happiness? It would.

Mr. Pilling and several of the committee on arrangements feel that it is the diplomatic thing to cancel the wedding al fresco. The awards that were to have been given the couple have been distributed among the various contests scheduled for the day as additional awards and the search for an embryo bride and groom is ended.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. BEVIS HELD TODAY

Passed Away on Monday At Her Home After Long Illness

Funeral services were held at 1 p. m. today for Mrs. Sophie C. Bevis, 470 Riverdale drive, who died at her home on Monday. The services were held at the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn cemetery.

Mrs. Bevis, who passed away at her home on August 7, was the wife of Henry H. Bevis. She was born in Zanesville, Ohio, July 17, 1848, to Theodore and Keziah Hazlett. She was married to Henry Bevis 34 years ago at Cincinnati, Ohio, where she and her husband lived for a number of years. Later the family resided in Boston for five years, and, during the past 20 years, made their home in New York.

Mrs. Bevis had been in ill health for the past 15 years. Two years ago the family moved to Glendale, hoping that the Southern California climate would prove beneficial to her. Four months ago she became bedfast.

Besides her husband the deceased is survived by two children of a former marriage, Louis C. Hazlett, of Chicago, and Mrs. Frank Keep, of New York. The body will be cremated, in compliance with the wish of Mrs. Bevis, and the ashes placed in the family plot in Spring Grove cemetery, Cincinnati, Ohio.

MISS VIRGINIA HAS PRETTY PARTY

Celebrates Her Eleventh Birthday With Eleven Guests

Eleven guests helped little Miss Virginia Melone celebrate her eleventh birthday last Saturday at a pretty party given for her by her mother, Mrs. H. O. Melone of 309 West Myrtle street. Pink was the color followed in the decorations and in the dainty table appointments. Unique place cards, in the shape of miniature candles, marked the places of the guests. Ice cream and cake and candy baskets were served.

The guests included Emma Torrey, Clara Roberts, Leone Rockhold, Josephine Smith, Frances McCarthy, Mary Frances Thompson, Frances Green, Elizabeth Moore, Dorothy Hill, Sylvia Bualdes, a friend from Illinois; Darrell Cole and the hostess, Virginia Melone.

A Year Ago Today

From the Glendale Daily Press of August 9, 1921.

A majority of the business men in the vicinity of Los Feliz and San Fernando road are anxiously awaiting the widening of Los Feliz road from San Fernando road to Central avenue. They believe that the widening of this road is an absolute necessity.

Mrs. Phoebe E. Clark of Nashville, Tenn., and one of the two women railroad presidents, is in Glendale visiting Mrs. L. Gibbs, 314 Burchett street, and Mrs. J. C. Bardsley, 244 Burchett street. Mrs. Clark is chief executive of the Tennessee, Kentucky and Northern Railroad.

After drifting on the Pacific ocean for four days in a boat with disabled engines, Johnny Richardson was rescued and returned to his home today.

Mrs. Adelene Van Orman of Chicago, was the guest of her sister, Dr. Jessie A. Russell the latter part of last week. Mrs. Van Orman visited in San Antonio, El Paso and Grand Canyon en route to the coast and left this morning by motor with Pasadena friends for Arrowhead lake and the Yosemite. The party will make stops along the way and expect a delightful journey.

Mrs. Alice T. Walton and Peggie Warner, who are members of a party that has been spending the week at Big Bear, report good luck fishing and a delightful time. When the card was mailed on the 7th they were leaving by auto for San Francisco and a stop at Bass lake.

TUJUNGA AUTHOR PRESENTS NEW PLAY

"La Golindrina," by J. S. McGroarty, Is Purely California Drama

TUJUNGA, Aug. 9.—"La Golondrina," the new play by John Steven McGroarty, Tujunga's poet-author-philosopher, was presented for the first time Monday night in the Mission playhouse at San Gabriel before a packed and enthusiastic house.

The play is purely California drama, similar to the Mission Play which it also resembles in historical significance. It is laid in the time of the governorship of Joaquin Arrillaga, the eighth under Spanish rule. The story deals with the visit to San Francisco of the grand chamberlain of Russia, Count Nicolai de Resanof, and a party of friends bound for Alaska, at that time Russian territory. Relations between Spain and Russia were none too friendly at that time and the count and his party were in grave danger until saved through the agency of Concepcion Arguello, daughter of the commandante of the presidio.

The Russian and the Spanish maiden fell in love and, according to history he went to Russia, promising to marry her upon his return. While in Russia he died and Concepcion became a nun. Mr. McGroarty, however, has introduced a newer dramatic note into his play in the form of a Spanish lover antedating the Russian. The Spaniard follows the Russian in order to fight a duel for the lady's hand and word returns to California that both the lovers are dead. Concepcion, hearing this, adopts the life of a nun without taking the vows, becoming what is known as a "beata."

In the last act the Spaniard returns after having been forcibly detained in Russia for some years, the nun takes off her veil and the lovers are united.

Members of the Mission Play company, who were seen in Tujunga recently in the benefit performance, staged by Mrs. McGroarty, take parts in the play, Patia Power having the leading role. The Spanish singing and dancing for which the artists are so noted is presented in the garden scene in the second act.

Mr. McGroarty was called out on Monday night after the play and in one of the delightful little talks for which he is so noted, expressed his appreciation of the reception of the play and gave a great deal of credit to Mrs. McGroarty for assistance and inspiration in its presentation.

BATTERY STOLEN

G. W. Thompson, of 1917 Gardena avenue, reported to the police that a battery was stolen from his machine last Sunday. THE BOOTLEGGER'S MOTHER GOOSE

What?

If all the world were apple pie,
And all the sea was ink,
And all the bootleg folk should die,
What would we have to drink?

Wondrous Wise

There was a man in our town,
And he was wondrous wise,
He drank a little bootleg hootch
And put out both his eyes,
And when he found his eyes were out
He looked about in vain
To find some new bootlegger who
Would put them in again.

The Virtuous Miss Muffet

Little Miss Muffet
Sat on a tuffet,
Eating of curds and whey,
And then some hard cider
Fermented beside her,
And frightened Miss Muffet away.

The Old Toper

There was an old toper and what do you think?
He went up an alley to get him a drink,
A new kind of brew and he said he would try it,
Now he lies on a slab and is peaceful and quiet.

The Canny Bootlegger

There was a bootlegger
Who lived in a shoe,
He had so many customers
He didn't know what to do,
So he got some wood alcohol,
Colored it red,
Now he has new customers,
The old ones are dead.

'KEYS TO FINEST HOME SECTION ARE HELD BY GLENDALE,' HADDOCK

Orator at Barbecue in Verdugo Woodlands Declares Newport Organization Is Made Up of Empire Builders

"Glendale holds the keys to the finest home section in the world," said Lon Haddock of the Haddock-Nibley company, in his address before the Glendale realty board, the city council and the chamber of commerce, at Verdugo Woodlands last night. The event was the regular weekly meeting of the realty board and the council and chamber of commerce officials were especially invited guests. All hands were guests of the F. P. Nwport company, owners of Verdugo Woodlands.

"In wandering around the world for a place to locate," continued Mr. Haddock, "I had to find a 'New-port,' so I came here and ever since that time the beauties of this place have been 'Twining' around my heart. I believe Glendale is the most wonderful place in the world. The sun shines not only from the skies of this section, but from the faces of the people who reside here. You cannot live here a great while without getting that sunny expression.

"I am proud of the Newport organization and for the things it is doing. From the very moment I drove down the road that traverses this valley, I have been a booster for Verdugo Woodlands. It is one of the finest locations for a home in Southern California. It is unsurpassed for beauty, location, climate, and every other feature.

"The realtors are the men who are building empires, and the Newport company is doing its full share and more in making Glendale one of the grandest cities in the world. It is converting this sylvan glen into the most wonderful of homeplaces. The real estate profession is one of the highest callings in the world today. We realtors own the earth and the fullness thereof. I am proud of the Realty Board of Glendale for the value it is proving to this community. Its members aim to give full value for every dollar received and protect their clients. And in no section of the city is more real value being given than right here in Verdugo Woodlands. Can you conceive a spot more desirable than this. Especially it is wonderful in the morning and at eventide. I honestly believe that a man cannot live in this place without becoming more holy and more truly conscious of the greatness of God.

"The growth of Glendale is not the result of a boom or the excited operations of any great real estate company. This city has grown because of the many wonderful resources it has to offer. Long Beach boasts of a growth of 200 percent during the past ten years, but Glendale has made a growth of 400 per cent during the same length of time. And she is continuing to grow. This advancement is not the result of any fake or any scheme. It is substantial and will last.

"I have been dreaming of Southern California ever since I came here to visit years and years ago. Since that first visit I yearned every minute for the day when I would be permitted to settle down here for good. But now I am here and I thank God for that fact. I love Glendale, and the world loves Glendale.

"We were told years ago that Southern California could not keep up growing as she had, and that she could not maintain the growth she had achieved. But I tell you that this section has only now caught its stride. A greater unfoldment is still to come—the advancement of this portion of the United States has just begun. The world is gradually getting this view of Southern California. We are even now only pioneering, as it were. The fame of this section is being heralded abroad.

"Five hundred and thirty-five new industries for Los Angeles during the past year. Do you realize what that means? There are thousands of industrial sections in this country that would consider themselves fortunate if they had secured ten industries during the past year. Where the smoke goes up the chimney there is prosperity. Industries mean permanency. The World war has taught that prosperity comes to the section where the wheels of the manufacturies can be kept turning the year round, just as they can in Southern California—where there are no blizzards to retard progress in any line—where the workman can go to and fro to his employment every day in the year.

"Los Angeles county is the richest county in the world. It has 300,000 acres of land now under cultivation. Less than ten years ago the San Fernando valley was a mammoth barley field, but now within it are seven thriving cities. Each of them has everything in the way of conveniences such as have the largest and oldest cities in the land. Right in our midst we have an empire in the making and the F. P. Newport company is doing its share to build that empire. Buy anywhere you will in this entire valley and you cannot help but receive a very fair return on your investment, providing you hold your property for a reasonable length of time.

"The new old world needs the things that are being made in Southern California and we need this new-old world as a market. The wealth of the Orient is sure to come rolling into Southern California. The owners of these manufacturies realize this and that is one reason why they are locating in Southern California. There were 35 steamship lines running out of Los Angeles harbor last June—there are 60 tonight.

"I do not wonder that the people who are not aware of the wonderful things of Southern California doubt our assertions. I do not wonder that they question our statements. But after they move here it does not take them a great while to realize that the things we have been telling them constitute only half the story—the other half can not be told. We have to live here and experience the wonders for ourselves.

"There are a thousand things that are making for the growth of Southern California. There is the motion picture industry, which is the fifth largest industry in the world today. There is the oil industry and by this I do not mean the fake oil industry, but the real goods. There is a larger percentage of oil in the sands of Southern California than in those of any other section of the world. There is the citrus industry, and hundreds of others.

"Don't be misled by the pessimist. This is the most wonderful country God has ever made, and He made it for the best people on earth."

What Glendale Thinks of Verdugo Woodlands Today

What the realtors of Glendale think of Verdugo Woodlands is shown by the remarks heard last night at the dinner given by the F. P. Newport company to the Glendale realty board, the city council and the officers of the Glendale chamber of commerce:

"I'm sold to it," said Roy D. King.

"It's my future home," said Realtor Hart.

It is wonderfully beautiful," said Edith May Osborne.

"Delightful," from H. C. Yale.

"Very, very beautiful," said Mrs. Mabel L. Tight.

"One of the most beautiful spots on God's footstool," said Assistant Secretary Sanders of the chamber of commerce.

"Can't beat it," from City Manager Reeves.

"Fine—very attractive," commented Realtor Sidenglanz.

"I'll tell you better after the feed." (One hour later): "Really it's beautiful," said Nichols, the realtor.

"The most attractive and beautiful homeplace in Southern California," said Charles B. Guthrie.

"Very wonderful place. Beautiful home section," said O. F. Kroehle.

"Perfectly delightful spot," remarked W. B. Kelly.

"Most scenic spot in Southern California," declared Harry M. Miller.

"The showplace of Glendale," by H. L. Baird.

"Great place, I'll say!" said President Thom.

"Most wonderful part of Glendale," said Chief Fraser.

"Adorable," declared Dr. Jessie A. Russell.
